Current Comment
By R. H. K.

The opinions (if any) expressed herein, are not necessarily those of The Campbell Press.

The untimely death of Gene Grattan, which occurred last week while the popular young attorney was enroute to a Kiwanis convention at Santa Barbara, leaves a gap in the community that will be indeed hard to fill. For Gene was well known in Campbell, and had many friends here. His name is synonymous with "good sportsmanship" throughout the county, and many a youth now on the way up will be deprived of an excellent influence and good companionship now that he is gone.

It has always seemed strange to me that, while so often fine men are taken in their prime, international hoodlums such as Hitler and Mussolini are permitted to go their devious ways unmolested.

The truculent Japanese are doing a bit of sabre-rattling with the idea of scaring the U. S. out of Asia and the Orient. As far as I am concerned, the Japs can have the works, including the Philippines. And if we passed up our "interests" across the Pacific we could put it down, not to fear of the Japanese, but to good, sound economic sense. Instead, however, our Secretary Knox, a truculent sort of a bird himself, is figuratively shaking his fist in the face of the Son of Heaven, and if somebody doesn't put the quietus on these fighting cocks we're apt to be in the war much sooner than even the pessimists expected.

The administration feels, apparently—even though it is somewhat loath to make the details public, that so long as the British fleet protects our front door (the Atlantic), we are in duty bound to help maintain the Empire in the East. This set-up does not particularly appeal to me because, in the first place our front door is not now in immediate danger and .if we pulled our collective nose out of the Orient, we could release our fairly powerful navy for duty on the east coast; in other words, we could guard our own front door quite adequately. Another bit of secret diplomacy which is liable to bring us to no good end.

I'm still trying to figure out by what right the "indispensable man" handed over a job lot of destroyers to the embattled Britons. Not that I object to the English having these ships—as long as we don't give away any more of them—but it seems to me the methods employed in the deal smack a little too much of dictatorship. In other words, Mr. Roosevelt feels, even if he does not say (with Mayor Hague of Jersey), "I am the law."

At the local cinema news pictures of Wendell Willkie are occasionally booed, usually by minors or others who do not have the right to vote. I'd like to point out that (in the candidate's own words), ". . . . . boos and catcalls are poor substitutes for clear thinking."

Maurine Weeks Is Lovely Bride Of Alfred Drake

Miss Maurine Weeks and Clarence Alfred Drake were wed at a beautiful yet simple ceremony at 8 o'clock Tuesday evening, October 8 in the Methodist church, with the Rev. John Brunswick officiating at the candle lighted altar.

The church was lovely with autumn leaves and flowers in autumn colors.

The bridal party entered the church and advanced to the altar as Axel Granstrom sang "O Promise Me" with Mrs. Brunswick at the organ.

The bride who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Weeks looked very charming in a gown of royal blue transparent velvet with rhinestone buttons and with hat and accessories all in burgundy. Her arm bouquet was of white carnations, lilies of the valley and bouvardia, with ferns.

Miss Kathleen Clement, an intimate friend of the bride was her only attendant. Her frock was of navy blue velvet with black accessories and her bouquet was white carnations and pink sweet peas.

Best man for Mr. Drake was a cousin, Chester Carter.

Following the ceremony and felicitations, refreshments were served in the church parlors, where a decorated tiered wedding cake adorned the table. Ice cream and small cakes were served.

They will be at home in an apartment in Willow Glen after a weeks vacation which was all the groom was allowed at this time. He is employed in the road department of the fourth supervisorial district.

Miss Weeks is a graduate of the local schools and was popular in her group of friends.

Pundita Circle Members Witness Play at Meeting

A humorous play was enjoyed by members of Pundita Circle last week when they were entertained at the home of Mrs. Frank Stephens in the Vaughn subdivision.

George Cram Cooke's "Suppressed Desire" was chosen for presentation by the committee, Mrs. George A. Rucker, Mrs. Earl Booker and the hostess.

Dainty refreshments concluded the afternoon's entertainment.

On Oct. 16 the group will meet with Mrs. B. O. Curry. Other members of her committee are Mrs. George W. Page, Mrs. Walker Vaughn, and the topic for consideration is "Progress In Architecture."

A son, who has been named Roy Allan, was born to Mr. and Mrs. Allan Smith at O'Connor sanitarium on Sept. 27.

Last Rites Held For Niels Anderson In San Francisco

Niels Anderson passed away in Campbell Monday and services were held this morning from Anderson's Funeral parlors in San Francisco under the auspices of Pacific Lodge, No. 136, F. & A. M.

Anderson owned a ranch on Pollard road near the Rinconada golf links where he lived at times, but which was managed for several years by his son A. C. Anderson, now ranching near Cupertino.

Anderson was a native of Odena, Denmark, aged 69 years. He was an active Mason, a member of several of the higher orders, and of Danish lodges.

He leaves his widow, Ingeborg Drohse Andeson; sons, A. C. and Niels Edward; daughters, Mrs. Carl Anderson of Santa Rosa and Mrs. Fred W. Schell of San Mateo; a brother and a sister.

Women's Society Of Methodist Church Meet

A very pleasant meeting of the newly organized Women's Society for Christian Service of the Methodist church was held Wednesday evening in the church parlors.

A delicious dinner served buffet style preceded the meeting. The serving table was beautifully arranged with a lace cloth over burnt orange and centered with a bowl of orange zinnias and Mexican marigolds, with tall orange tapers in low holders.

Small tables were set for four each with a dainty bouquet for ornament.

After a business meeting an impressive candle lighting ceremony was conducted by Mrs. Thomas J. Gamble of Los Gatos Methodist church in which the officers and leaders were installed.

In addition to those previously named, Mrs. Frank Richardson accepted the kitchen chairmanship.

High School PTA Holds Interesting Meeting On Oct. 9

The Campbell Union High School P.-T. A. met in regular session in the little theater of the school, Wednesday, Oct. 9. Following the usual patriotic demonstration a short business session was held during which reports of standing committees were heard and several appointive changes made in the executive board.

Mrs. C. E. Fagalde, chairman of finance, presented the budget for the current year and called attention to the first two major projects scheduled to help in raising it.

On Nov. 7 and 8 a play will be presented by The Footlighters in the high school auditorium; and on Nov. 14, in the high school gymnasium, a turkey whist will be held.

After the business meeting, Mrs. Carl Field, program chairman, turned over the balance of the afternoon to Willard Van Dyke, principal of the school and chairman of the day, who first presented C. P. Klassen, music director of the school and his a capella choir, who entertained with two numbers.

He then presented Donald Packer, president of the associated students and his board of councillors, each one explaining to an interested audience, his separate duties.

Mr. Van Dyke then made a short address, telling just how the school is growing and progressing, with a 22 per cent increase in enrollment since the close of school in June.

After presentation of the faculty, four of the teachers being new this year, the meeting was adjourned for the social hour.

The next unit meeting will be held on Nov. 13.

W. W. Williamson of North Second street who for more than two years had been in Arabia where a major oil company has an extensive field, arrived home last week after a journey occupying several weeks.

Supervisors OK Purchase of Land For New Road

A plan, under discussion for over a year, was brought to the point of action by the county supervisors when they aproved the purchase for $1284.71 of a 26½ acre right-of-way, running three and a half miles from Campbell to Kooser road, the 30 foot Southern Pacific right-of-way of the old road to Almaden, and set Nov. 4 for public hearing of the proposal.

This plan is for the proposed purchase of one of the two railroad lines that carried supplies to and from the old quicksilver mines, and which the Southern Pacific abandoned some years ago.

Not included in the proposed purchase is the railroad tressle across the Los Gatos creek south of Campbell. This was bought by George W. Payne from the company that procured the rails and might sell the trestle to the ties when the line was abandoned.

On suggestion that he county, the supervisors intimated that it would not be worth while as it would only make a one way road.

This new road will make a direct farm-to-market way through orchards, and in the future it may be continued, although ranchers south of Kooser road have become owners of the right-of-way under terms of the original deed which gave them first option if the line were ever abandoned.

Dates for PTA Play Set For Nov. and 8

With the construction of setting begun and rehearsals already in the second week, the Ayn Rand production of "Night of January 16th," a drama sceduled for Nov. 7 and 8, is well under way, according to Dean Chamberlin, who is directing. All but a few non-speaking roles have been chosen.

Strictly speaking, this intensely emotional drama is without a heroine, but Mrs. Betty Sewell has the leading feminine role, that of Karen Andre, defendant in the murder trial. Nor has it a hero, the principal male role being that of the prosecuting attorney, played by Archie Keesling.

The play will be presented in the high school auditorium by The Footlighters for the benefit of the Campbell Union High School P.-T. A. and because of the unique way the plot is developed and carried out, it should prove of great interest to anyone who enjoys "thrillers."

A public mass meeting will be held at the community hall in Campbell, Sunday, Oct. 13 at 2 p. m. Dr. Roy W. Nelson of Cupertino will be the speaker. The meeting is sponsored by the Townsend Recovery Plan organization in San Jose. Chairman of the meeting is E. H. Dean.

Billy Farnham, Scout, Fatally Hurt At Camporal

Cambrian school was closed Tuesday in tribute to William Farnham, a student of the school, whose funeral was held in the afternoon, and to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Martin H. Farnham, both actively connected with the school, he as a trustee and Mrs. Farnham as president of the Home and School club.

The death of Billy resulted from smoke and flame inhaled when his sleeping bag caught on fire in his tent at the Boy Scout camporal at Santa Rosa Saturday night.

Lights were out at 9:15 and Scoutmaster Walters had made the customary inspection. This was Billy's first encampment as he had become a Scout but a short time before and that may have accounted for the failure to observe the safety rule of guarding an open flame.

He seemingly fell asleep and the candle tipped over, igniting his sleeping bag, which smouldered. Inhaling smoke and fumes rendered him unconscious, so that he also breathed flame, as later examination disclosed seared lungs.

Billy Jensen, his tent mate and other boys aroused by the cry of fire pulled him from his bag and Scoutmaster Walters rushed him to the Sonoma county hospital. Although burned on one arm and his face, his condition was not considered serious at the time.

Services were held from the Curry and Gripenstraw chapel, with Rev. J. H. Bennett officiating.

The entire community extends sympathy to the bereaved parents, and to his brothers Paul, who is an Eagle Scout, Jack, also a Scout and his sister, Ruth.

Dr. John Cooper Dies Suddenly In Oakland

Mrs. Theodore Cutting received word that her brother, Dr. John H. Cooper had passed away suddenly at his home in Oakland Sunday.

He was the son of the late Dr. and Mrs. Charles N. Cooper, pioneer residents of Campbell, both of whom lived here until their deaths several years ago. Besides his widow and sister, the former Mary Cooper, two brothers, Charles and William Cooper, both of Oakland, survive.

Stephen Merrill who had been called to Los Angeles almost immediately after his arrival here from Cincinatti, returned Saturday and after a full day Sunday visiting with sundry families of relatives, he and his family left Monday morning for Hollywood. At that time he had signed no definite contract but was considering several propositions.

Mrs. Lavinia Grattan who had spent the summer in Iowa, arrived home Saturday evening.

MARRIED SOLDIERS BRAVER

Figuring that married men make the best soldiers, because the thought of defending the little woman and home hearth will inspire a man to uncommon valor, "Marryin' Harry" Hamilton, noted Oklahoma knot-tyer, announces an offer to marry any draft-age chap who promises not to use the wife as an excuse to keep out of the army. Poets and romantics will agree with Marryin' Harry—but the cynics won't. If a married soldier is better, we've heard one declare already, it's because he's had combat experience, knows how to retreat in face of a superior enemy, is broken to discipline, and has courage born of enduring the wife's relatives, installment collectors, the neighbor's kids and tax gatherers. To get away from that a guy'll face anything, he argued. Maybe there's some fire behind the smoke of cynicism. But—and here's where we think Marryin' Harry has something—have you ever heard of a man vowing to spill his blood defending the threshold of a boarding house? Do heroes die for hotels?

WHY PLAY THEIR GAME?

The rowdyism that marked the visit of Wendell Willkie in Michigan the other day showed small sign of that decent respect for the opinions of others which is the hallmark of civilized behavior. These are, indeed, critical times when tempers and temperatures run high, when tolerance runs short and patience with the other fellow's contrary view tends to be displaced by scorn and even contempt. In doing so, we simply imperil our own freedom. By such actions we obligingly, if unknowingly, play the diciators' game for them as they would like us to play it. The more heatedly we quarrel, the more angrily we abuse those in disagreement with us, the less fair play we show, the more fuel we add to the fires of disunity in our midst. And it is into just those fires that unfriendly powers abroad would like to see us plunged. It is the job of the fifth columnist to shove us along in that direction. Why should we abet him by unsuspectingly carrying out his job for him? For our country's safety, let's hold to the rules of fair play. They have not been revoked.

A WISE FATHER

Professor Samuel C. May, director of the buerau of public administration at the University of California and vice-president of the state defense council, was forced to make a stern, probably heartbreaking decision recently. He publicly "disowned and disinherited" his son, Kenneth May, a teaching assistant in mathematics at the university, because the boy is an avowed Communist and a persistent disciple of the red cause.

There is always tragedy in a break between father and son. There was undoubtedly bitter despair in Professor May's brief statement, "Kenneth seems to have a martyr complex." But if anything can bring a young man to his senses who has turned against the country that gave him birth, and has espoused the cause of its enemies, certainly his own father's disdain and public reproach should achieve it. Professor May is a wise father; perhaps, when disillusionment sets in, he shall have a wise son.

A GOLDEN EGG

Although wrecking crews are pounding into dust the $50 million dream that was once the beautiful temples, courts and buildings of a World's Fair in San Francisco bay, that island pageant is certain to return in memory as it came back in fact in the manner of the fabled Phoenix.

After a 1939 season which fell short of the hoped for attendance, it was natural that some sponsors and creditors should look with cool, critical eyes on proposals to hold the Fair a second year. One group of creditors, foreseeing what looked like certain financial disaster on the horizon of a 1940 showing, did, in fact, withdraw from further participation, settle for 15 cents on the dollar and charge their loss up to experience.

Another group, however, saw a different picture in the future. They optimistically foresaw even bigger, more enthusiastic crowds thronging the turnstiles this year than last. They were not mistaken. In '40, previous attendance records fell by the wayside like autumn leaves in a gale. The hoped for 5 million attendance was reached, and passed, weeks before closing time. And the creditors who stayed will re-receive between 86 and 88 cents on the dollar, as against the 15 cents received by those who declined to support a second year.

Let it be added that during the two years of the Fair, Central and Northern California attracted a total of 2,011,301 visitors who spent in those areas $98,261,025—a rich plum which dropped in the laps of many enterprises. Those who expected Treasure Island to lay an egg were right. It did. But contrary to their expectations, it proved to be a golden egg.

TEN MILLION DOLLARS A DAY!

In the last 90 days national defense contracts and allocations for the Pacific coast have totaled $900,000,000—an average of $10,000,000 every day of the week poured into west coast industry to spread out through the commercial channels of large and small business from which live millions of people. At least $800,000,000 of that gigantic treasure will be spent on work performed in this area, with the remainder expended in other parts of the country under Pacific coast control.

Five hundred million for naval shipbuilding.

Three hundred million for airplanes.

Forty-seven million for air bases, storage facilities, etc.

Forty-three million for miscellaneous needs—bullets to blankets!

No one knows what is ahead for us. Perhaps the tremendous resurgence in business can be maintained, and the depression left behind. Perhaps some day we must pay with future butter for present guns. But one fact stands—the third quarter of 1940 will see tremendous changes in the business picture of California. A picture painted with a brush of gold at the rate of ten million dollars a day!

READ IT AND WEEP

Fame is one thing. When you pay dearly for it, that's another.

Here's Los Angeles, renowned from pole to pole and around the earth, and what does she get? Among other things as reported by the state controller, the honor of having her citizens pay taxes on more than one third the taxable property of the entire state—a clue to the tax valuation of Los Angeles county. Fame, as ever, comes high but in 1940 taxes come higher!

POLITICAL PARADE

By CLEM WHITAKER

The political friendship that looked promising at convention-time becomes a first-class liability, in many instances, long before election day.

There are innumerable classic examples of this political parádox — and President Roosevelt's managers in California are jumping through hoops, right at the moment, trying to keep history from repeating itself.

Two of Mr. Roosevelt's California friends who are giving the third-term campaigners the galloping jitters are Governor Culbert L. Olson, who delivered this state's delegation to the President at the Democratic national convention, and Harry Bridges, the truculent CIO boss who went down the line for the New Deal four years ago—and has since been protected and befriended by Madame Perkins.

It is no state secret that such Roosevelt bigwigs as George Creel and "Bill" Malone, the newly-elected Democratic state chairman, have nightmares every time they consider what might happen if troubled Mr. Bridges, now under investigation by the G-men, should suddenly pop out with a public endorsement of their candidate.

While they are more charitably-inclined toward Governor Olson, because after all he is the National committeeman from California and the titular head of the party, the Democratic managers were frankly irked when the Governor insisted on going about the state with Henry A. Wallace, Mr. Roosevelt's running mate. The fact that Mr. Olson was badly beaten in his attempted "purge" of the legislature, and has been threatened with both recall and impeachment, makes the Democratic bosses wonder if he wouldn't render a greater service to the party by endorsing Wendell Willkie.

Adding insult to injury, the Willkie-McNary forces photographed Mr. Wallace and Mr. Olson as they appeared in affectionate public pose and promptly distributed prints of the picture to newspapers far and wide.

Governor Olson's forces, however, have served notice that their chief can't be pushed around by upstarts in the party, who happen to be in the limelight temporarily as Mr. Roosevelt's campaign managers. Mr. Olson, they point out, will still be national committeeman after the election—and in that capacity will dispense all federal patronage in California if Mr. Roosevelt is re-elected. And that's quite an important item if you happen to live by the spoils of politics.

Esther Sorenson To Marry Lawyer

Miss Esther Sorenson who had been in Los Angeles for several weeks returned to Campbell for a few days last week with her mother, Mrs. Pearl Sorenson and then left Sunday evening for New York where she expected to arrive today.

She was to be met by her fiance, Raymond Walter, an attorney to whom she became engaged while in Washington, D. C., where she was secretary to various congressmen.

They plan to be married within a day or two and will reside in New York for the present.

Miss Sorenson was tendered an afternoon and an evening shower Friday by Mrs. J. E. Murdock. White chrysanthemumus were used for floral decorations and dainty refreshments were served.

Bidden for the afternoon were the Mesdames Downs, Nicholls, Jackson Rice, Lester and Soutar, and for the evening, Miss Lois Bachman, Miss Veva Nicholls and Mesdames Benson, Gordon, Granstrom and Mathis.

Eugene Grattan

Seldom does it befall a person to be accorded the sincere tributes from people in all walks of life that have been given in honor of Eugene Grattan.

Living an unspectacular life, he had exerted a remarkable influence for the upbuilding of youth, physically and morally, a great deal of which only became known after his untimely death.

Seeing what kindly interest and helpful sympathy accomplished in his short life should be an inspiration to others to try to make their corner of the world a better place in which all its people may live.

Woman's Club Hears Talk On China

Mrs. Hubert Wagner was chairman and hostess to the Country Woman's club at its meeting o n Monday. As her assisting committee were Mrs. Lowell Benson, Mrs. Lavinia Grattan, Mrs. L. J. Campodonico, Mrs. H. E. Hansen, and Mrs. R. G. Archibald.

In keeping with the Oriental topic of the day, the club rooms were made attractive with many large Chinese fans, gay panels, and fall flowers arranged in flat Oriental containers. An added note of far eastern decoration was two lovely wind bells often used in Oriental gardens.

The business meeting was presided over by Mrs. Wyland R. Morgan, president. Under reports of committee heads Mrs. Ralph Hyde of the house committee told of the work which had been done on the library and club rooms this summer. A great deal of credit for these improvements was given to Otis Hyde and Leon Miller, both of whom donated much time and energy.

It was announced that the Federation of Women's clubs will meet on Oct. 25 at the We and Our Neighbors club rooms. Reservations should be made two days before that date with Mrs. Sue Boyce, Mrs. J. D. Blaine, or Mrs. G. E. Jeffers.

Mrs. Wagner as chairman of the day, introduced the program. Joan Kennedy student of Campbell High school, an accomplished young pianist, played with fine feeling Ketelby's "In a Chinese Temple Garden."

Mary Bankes of the Ming Quong school of Los Gatos, spoke upon her life in China. Miss Bankes spent over twenty years as a missionary in Canton where she grew to know and love the Chinese people and China. She told of the development of the Chinese schools from the time they were merely one room classes for boys only where the classics were memorized until now when it is possible for even a girl to obtain a liberal education.

In the old China women were kept in ignorance and even today we find the Chinese is shadowed always by his fears. The Chinese is constantly aware of his duty to his gods and the devils, too. He makes much over ceremonies especially weddings and funerals both of which are elaborate and extended affairs. In fact Miss Bankes said it is often difficult to determine which is a wedding procession and which is a funeral.

Miss Bankes closed her talk by pointing out that the modern Canton is much different from the one she first saw in 1904. Many of the quaint, narrow w i n d i n g streets have given way to straight boulevards and much of the charm of old China has thus been lost.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Bohnett were in Campbell this week visiting the W. C. Bohnetts on Rincon avenue and Mrs. Bohnett's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Morgan of Kennedy avenue. They made a trip to Sacramento between stops here.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Simonds are again living in Campbell having moved into the Merriman house on the corner of Winchester and Kennedy avenues.

Many Local Fruit Workers To Take Part In Election

Approximately 100 dried fruit workers in the Campbell area will be affected by the decision of the National Labor Relations board to hold an election in the last week in October to designate a collective bargaining agency for all of Santa Clara and San Benito counties.

Plant No. 1, of the California Prune and Apricot Growers association, located in Campbell, is the packing house involved in the Campbell area. According to unofficial estimates, based on the decision of the board to limit eligibility to workers who have put in eighteen full days in the last eighteen months, about one hundred workers at PlantNo. 1 will participate in the election.

On August 24, the board handed down its initial ruling, which reversed the certification of the CIO Warehouse Union and called for an industry-wide election to determine whether the Warehouse Union, the A. F. of L. or nounion was the correct bargaining agency. The CIO Warehouse Union had been originally certified by Trial Examiner Fitzpatrick after a prolonged hearing last year.

The decision affects some 2800 dried fruit workers in Santa Clara and San Benito counties ,and thirteen packing companies.

Wednesday, Oct. 16 Registration Date Of Draft Age Men

Next Wednesday, Oct. 16, the men of draft age will go to their regular polling places to register for the draft. If any one is not a registered voter and so does not know where he should go, find out before that date.

If there is any question as to age, County Clerk Frank Hogan gives the following statement: "All young men must register who have reached their 21st birthday on or before Oct. 16. Those who have attained their 36th birthday by that date do not have to register."

Alien males between those ages as well as American citizens must register.

There are some exemptions from registration but the individual should inform himself from an official source if he thinks he is in one of those classes.

Stiff penalties are provided for those who try to evade the draft, fail to register, state untruths to registration boards, or conspire to help others to evade the draft. Maximum penalty is 5 years in federal prison, or a $10,000 fine, or both.

Miss Frances Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley B. Smith of Vasona junction, who graduated from Stanford in engineering, is now with the Douglas Aircraft corporation in Santa Monica in the drafting department, having entered upon her new duties the last of September.

Kiwanis Club Hears Reports On Convention

Campbell Kiwanians who attended the convention at Santa Barbara last week gave reports of meetings and social events at Tuesday's luncheon meeting.

Ethan Lanphear s p o k e briefly on the idea of personal salesmanship, describing the classes which R. G. Fjellstrom assistant manager of the San Jose office of the state employment service conducts. Lanphear dwelt especially on the work of the "Plus 40" age classes.

Next week the annual stag party at Santa Cruz will be enjoyed. Members will leave from the library at 6 o'clock for dinner at Brownie's Tavern in the Surf City and then will adjourn to the J. O. Leverton cottage in Paradise Park for an evening of games.

Campbell Avenue To Be Improved

The county board of supervisors at its meeting Monday adopted plans and specifications for the improvement of Campbell avenue from San Jose-Los Gatos road to the Southern P a c i f i c railroad tracks, and a call for bids was made. These bids are to be received Monday, Oct. 21, up to 11 o'clock a. m.

The new four lane bridge across Los Gatos creek on this road is rapidly nearing completion and when the road is widened and surfaced will make an entrance to the business section that will invite visitors and be a great convenience to residents on that side of Campbell.

Joe Meckled, Abe Klassen, Julius Bachman and Bryce Whitmore were fishing at Rio Vista last week-end. They reported a nice catch.

The card party scheduled to be held by the Cambrian Home and School club on Oct. 19, has been indefinitely postponed. T h e announcement came from Mrs. Charles Findley and Mrs. Oliver Price, co-chairmen for the event.

Miss Helen Buck who has been teaching in the Gilroy school for the past four years was released from her contract and has joined the faculty of the Campbell Union Grammar school where she is instructing the low sixth grade. The increased attendance in the school necessitated an additional teacher.

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH NOTES
J. H. Bennett, Pastor

This Sunday at 11 a. m., the church will hold a guest day. All the worshippers are asked to bring other people as guests and be sure to make them feel at home and introduce them to others.

Sunday school at 11 a. m. and a very stimulating program has been arranged.

At 6:30 p. m. the youth groups will meet.

The junior members of the church met this Wednesday at 5:30 p. m. Rev. J. H. Bennett had dinner with them and then discussed the first of a new series of "Christian personality" studies. These meetings go on each month until the juniors are ready for senior membership.

The members of the Men's club are notified that the meetings will begin this month, possibly on Wednesday, Oct. 23. A fine program will be arranged.

Sorority Plans Novel Dance

San Jose Country club will be the setting for a novel semi-formal dance to be given on the night of Nov. 16 by Sigma Tau Delta sorority, which is both a social and charity group. Many plans and preparations have been made to make this the gala event of the season.

The "Star Dust" theme will be carried out in bids, decorations, and musical arrangements, which will be played by one of the popular sweet-swing orchestras.

The committee which has been working on this affair is composed of Anne Bender, Alberta Donning and Betty Walker.

Bids for the grand affair may be purchased at the door or by calling Campbell 176 or from any Sigma Tau Delta member.

Simonds Bid Bon Voyage to Captain

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Simonds traveled to Sausalito on Saturday to say "bon voyage" to their friend Captain Harry Littchen of the 30 foot ketch Nahra. Captain Littchen set sail early Sunday morning for the Hawaiian islands. The South Seas will be included in the cruise if international conditions permit.

Accompanying C a p t a i n Littchen are three San Jose boys, Jerry Hecker, Melton Ferris and Tom Baumgartner. The trip is expected to last from six months to a year.

Mr. and Mrs. Simonds sent greetings with the Captain to their friends in Maui, who will be there to meet the Nahra when she arrives in a month or six weeks. Another ketch, the Stranger, of the same design as the Nahra also set sail Sunday morning. The Stranger was captained by Arnold Olson of Sausalito.

The Audacious, also of the same design, was scheduled to accompany the other craft, but has been delayed and will follow soon. Her owner, Mr. and Mrs. William Weir, plan to sail soon and meet the Nahra and Stranger in the Hawaiian islands.

American Boy Is Companion To Thousands

Hundreds of thousands of boys and young men read THE AMERICAN BOY Magazine every month and consider it more as a living companion than as a magazine.

"It's as much a buddy to me as my neighborhood chum," writes one high school senior. "THE AMERICAN BOY seems to understand a boy's problems and considers them in such a sympathetic and helpful way. It gives advice and entertaining reading on every subject in which a young fellow is interested. It is particularly helpful in sports. I made our school basketball team because of playing tips in THE AMERICAN BOY."

Many famous athletes in all sports credit much of their success to helpful suggestions received from sports articles carried in THE AMERICAN BOY Magazine . Virtually every issue offers advice from a famous coach or player. Football, basketball ,track, tennis, in fact every major sport is covered in fiction and fact articles.

Teachers, librarians, parents and leaders of boys' clubs also recommend THE AMERICAN BOY enthusiastically. They have found that as a general rule regular readers of THE AMERICAN BOY advance more rapidly and develop more worthwhile characteristics than do boys who do not read it.

Trained writers and artists, famous coaches and athletes, explorers, scientists and men successful in business and industry join with an experienced staff to produce in THE AMERICAN BOY, the sort of reading matter boys like best.

THE AMERICAN BOY sells on most newsstands at 25c a copy. Subscription prices are $2.00 for one year or $3.50 for three years. Foreign and Canadian rates 50c a year extra. To subscribe simply send your name, address and remittance direct to THE AMERICAN BOY, 7430 Second Blvd., Detroit, Michigan.

The FARMERS CORNER

by RALPH H. TAYLOR
Executive Secretary Agricultural Council of California

There'll be no "Ham and Eggs for Everybody" on this year's election ballot; no "single tax;" no spectacular cure-alls for mankind's ailments. Consequently, the ballot amendment campaigns will lack the bitter controversy and high-voltage content of some of the battles of recent years.

When California voters go to the polls on Nov. 5, however, they will be confronted with 17 state propositions—some of simply a technical nature, others of first-rate importance.

Propositions 1 and 2 are constitutional amendments by the legislature and providing for the release of liens taken on property of old age pensioners.

No. 1 cancels all claims of state, counties and state agencies against property of pensioners, and nullifies all agreements between the state and pensioners for encumbrance of the latter's property.

No. 2 is designed to accomplish the same result with regard to liens taken under the old age security act which was in effect prior to 1937.

Legislators who sign the official argument in favor of No. 1 present their case, in part, as follows:

"An amendment was adopted by the legislature in 1939 requiring applicants for and recipients of aged aid to sign an agreement not to sell, transfer, or mortgage real property without the consent of the county board of supervisors. This provision was repealed by the legislature in 1940 and is no longer effective.

"This constitutional amendment (No. 1) was initiated by the legislature to clear, without any question of doubt, the rights and title of recipients of aged aid in their property. It releases all agreements not to transfer or encumber that have heretofore been made and requires boards of supervisors to execute and record necessary instruments.

"It seems that there can be no argument against the adoption of this amendment. It will cost the taxpayers nothing as no equities in properties are involved. It will remove all question as to the rights of aged aid recipients to transfer, encumber, or otherwise handle or dispose of their real property as they see fit."

The Property Owners Association of California, which signs the official argument against No. 1, takes the position that the proposal would actually result in heavy losses to taxpayers and would virtually repeal the present provision in the state constitution prohibiting the making of a gift of public funds.

"There are in Los Angeles county alone—where the highest relief load is carried—about three thousand of such liens held under the 1939 statute. They average about $250 each and total approximately $75,000. They are being paid off at a rate of about $100,000 a year . . . and payments are being made without effecting material hardship upon those who received the public assistance. If Proposition No. 1 were to pass it would mean the loss of this large amount of money to Los Angeles county and to other counties in proportion. In summarry, there are three main reasons why a 'No' vote should be cast on this proposition:

"First—Loss of hundreds of thousands of dollars to the taxpaying public, without corresponding benefits to recipients of aid.

"Second—Virtual gift of large sums of money, in the form of estates of aid recipients, to relatives who failed or refused to assist aged persons during their lifetime.

"Third — Constitutional waiver of the clause prohibiting gift of public funds in aid cases, thus establishing an extremely dangerous precedent."

CAMP FIRE GIRLS

An enjoyable yet fruitful Sunday afternoon was spent at the Campfire house by the ambitious Tawasi girls. The following girls spent their time in watering the garden and planting a lawn of lypia, Jane Gerrans, Bobbie Jo and Mary Sue Field, Violet Burkhart, Carol Lantz and Ernestine Fahler. This was done under the kind guidance of the Campfire advisor, Miss Helen Stray. The grass was donated by thoughtful Campbell residents and to these people we, the Campfire Girls give our grateful thanks.

CALIFORNIA SPEAKS!

Significant Statements By Interesting Californians

Pres. Ray Lyman Wilbur, Stanford—"We must face the fact that we are in a world of reality. Americans have been letting their freedom slip from them during the past few years and they have been accepting a false ideal of security."

Dr. Davis M. Dawson, addressing N. Calif. Baptists convention— "The forces man has discovered in God's universe have fallen into atheistic hands. We need a religious revival to bring man's spiritual stature up to that of his scientific understanding."

Irvin S. Cobb—"I am supporting Wendell Willkie because I am a lifelong Democrat and he is the only Democrat running for President this year. There are 12 other reasons why I am for Willkie—one is Madame Perkins and Harold Ickes is the remaining 11."

Nat J. L. Peiper, S.F. FBI chief—"There are among us, foreign agents and saboteurs who would steal our secrets and destroy with wanton disregard for life. But there is no place—no need—for a Gestapo or Ogpu here. We will combat enemies in the American way."

The Footlighters Elect Officers For Coming Year

After a short business session election of officers for the coming year was held. All officers named by the nomination committee, Mrs. Betty Sewell chairman were unanimously elected to office. The new officers are: Archie Keesling, president; L B e n Howard, vice-president; and Alma Leverton, secretary. The two directors, Mrs. Archie Keesling and Dean Chamberlin and the treasurer, Ethan Lanphear will remain as last year.

Following the meeting rehearsals on the play were held.

Columnist Geo. Sokolsky, in Pacific Grove on lecture tour—"This election will be so close, by what I've observed all over the country, that even one per cent of the vote may determine the outcome."

Mrs. Archibald Jones, wife of RAF surgeon, arriving with two children to stay in California — "The consensus of Englishmen in all walks of life is that since we must all die sooner or later, to die fighting for something which is right is a fine way to leave this world."
